

Cookie Policy

This website, like most others, uses cookies to help provide you with the best browsing experience. Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or mobile device when you first visit a website or page.

On this website we are using cookies to:

- Make our website work as you'd expect
- Improve the speed/security of the site
- Allow you to share pages on social networks such as Instagram & Facebook
- Make improvements to our website by seeing how users navigate around it

We do not use cookies to:

- Collect any personally identifiable information (without your express permission)
- Collect any sensitive information (without your express permission)
- Pass data to advertising networks
- Pass personally identifiable data to third parties

Giving permission to use cookies.

If your browser is set to accept cookies, we take this, and your continued use of our site as acceptance of our cookie policy. If you wish not to accept the use of cookies, or to delete any that have already been set, you can find out how below. Please bear in mind that some features on our website might not work correctly with cookies disabled.

By continuing to use this website after seeing our notice and/or reading this page you are indicating that you are happy for us to set cookies in your browser in line with this document

These are session cookies. Session Cookies are only stored temporarily and are deleted from the user's device when the browser is closed.

Managing cookies

If you want to, you can usually stop your browser accepting cookies from all sites, or stop it accepting cookies from a particular website. However, as cookies are a standard part of most modern websites, this will probably limit the functionality of not only our site but many others too. You can find the tools to manage cookies in the 'preferences' or 'tools' menu of your browser, otherwise you should use the 'Help' option in your browser for more details.
